

James Woys Joins Molina Healthcare as Executive Vice President of Health Plan Services

May 14, 2018

LONG BEACH, Calif.--(BUSINESS WIRE)--May 14, 2018-- Molina Healthcare, Inc. (NYSE: MOH) announced that James Woys has joined the Company as its executive vice president of health plan services. Jim will lead all of the enterprise's health plan support functions that are centralized and regionalized. These operations contain approximately 7,500 employees and include information technology, claims processing, payment integrity and contact centers as well as Molina's $3 billion pharmacy operation, national network operations and a variety of clinical-oriented services such as quality, risk adjustment and ancillary services.

Jim previously spent 30 years at Health Net where he most recently served as the executive vice president and chief financial and operating officer. There he was responsible for managing operations of the $20 billion enterprise with extensive experience overseeing Medicare, Medicaid, Marketplace and other government programs.

"Jim is a proven and seasoned executive with the experience to make him a significant addition to our executive leadership," said Joe Zubretsky, president and chief executive officer of Molina Healthcare, Inc. "With Jim at the head of our centralized and regionalized health plan support teams, and Pam Sedmak leading our health plan P&Ls, we have assembled a winning executive lineup to execute the Company's margin recovery and sustainability plan."

Jim brings more than 35 years of health care experience to Molina. As executive vice president, CFO and COO at Health Net, Jim was successful managing more than $1 billion in general and administrative expenses across the Medicare, Medicaid, Commercial and Department of Defense and Department of Veterans Affairs operating segments. Jim also served as Health Net's president of government and specialty services where he helped procure contracts and grow three operating segments covering more than three million lives.

Jim earned his bachelor's degree from Arizona State University and his master's degree in business administration from Golden Gate University.
